

Buprenorphine patches

Pain Management

Patient Information Leaflet

Introduction

Welcome to The Dudley Group Pain Management Service. This leaflet will provide you and your relatives with information about a medication called buprenorphine. It includes what it is for, how it is taken and its benefits and risks.

This leaflet is not meant to replace discussion between you and your doctor, but as a guide to be used in conjunction with what is discussed.

What are buprenorphine patches?

Buprenorphine is a strong painkiller which is prescribed for moderately severe pain. It is a form of pain relief known medically as an opioid. It works on your nervous system and brain to reduce the way you feel pain.

We use it in the form of patches. Brand names of the patches include Transtec or BuTrans. The patches are adhesive and are usually worn on the upper body, often the arm, chest or back. They release painkiller slowly and evenly over several days.

What are the benefits?

Buprenorphine patches are used to treat moderate to severe pain that has not responded to basic painkillers.

What are the risks?

Buprenorphine can cause side effects. These may include a rash, nausea, being sick, dizziness, drowsiness, constipation or diarrhoea. Less commonly, it may cause confusion and breathing difficulties. Please read the leaflet enclosed with your medication.

You must be careful if you are driving or operating machinery while wearing the patches and for up to 24 hours after stopping them, due to possible side effects of dizziness or drowsiness. Drinking alcohol while wearing the patch can make you feel drowsy.

Important

Do not drive or operate heavy machinery if you feel drowsy.

How do I take it?

The patch should be applied to flat, non-hairy, clean and dry skin where there are no scars. Please note: you must keep patch away from direct heat.

There are several patch strengths available (5 mcg, 10 mcg, 20 mcg, 35 mcg, 52.5 mcg and 70 mcg). Your consultant will recommend the best strength for you, depending on your previous doses of painkillers and your medical condition.

It can take up to 12 hours to have pain relief from the patch.

You can continue to take your current pain relief medication during this time. Your consultant will give you advice about this.

Your patch will need to stay in place for three days (for Transtec) or seven days (for BuTrans). There are some painkilling medications that you can take as well as having the patch.

Please note:

- do not use more patches than the consultant has prescribed for you
- do not stop using them suddenly

Keep this medicine out of the reach of children. Used patches still contain some buprenorphine, so keep used patches away from children.
